

6 Supplement Poems

In this section we provide the complete list of poems used in experiments. Notice that because of limitations of certain methods, running those methods may not result in a valid limerick. Therefore, even given the same computational resource and list of prompt words, the number of valid poems produced by different methods varies significantly. In our side-by-side comparison experiments, we randomly select 50 pairs of poems with same prompt words if available. 6 methods are used in our experiments: LimGen; Candidate-Rank; No-Story; Single-Template; Deep-Speare; Human Poets

6.1 LimGen
